

Wednesday 31 March 2010

12.00pm to 2.00pm, Ofcom Northern Ireland

Landmark House, 5 Cromac Quay, The Gasworks
Ormeau Road, Belfast

Communications: the next 10 years...

Part 1: Changes in Communications technologies

1. Where are we today? The growth in penetration of electronic communications technologies
2. The future of television: revolution or evolution
3. Scenarios for fixed line broadband
4. Wireless networks in the home
5. Wireless networks on the move

Part 2: The communications consumer

1. Implications of an ageing population
2. The end of childhood
3. The young have different values
4. The rise and rise of social networking
5. But some things will stay the same

Part 3: What does this mean?

1. UK plc online
2. The rise in home working
3. Consumer militancy goes mainstream
4. Everything goes wireless
5. Everything goes mobile
6. Remaining digital divides

March 2010